BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL NOTE:

Joseph William Alekscezyk was born on January 16, 1914 to Josef Alekscezyk (1887) and Stella Downerovicz (1894) in Chicago, Illinois. His parents were Russian and Lithuanian immigrants who married in 1913. He was named after his mother's two brothers. He legally changed his last name to Alexander in 1944. Joe was the oldest of three children with Henry and Bruno being born in 1915 and 1916, respectively. Bruno contracted polio at the age of two. He and Joe remained close and Joe helped his brother financially for the rest of his life. The family lived on Grand Avenue in a predominately Polish North Chicago neighborhood. Joe loved baseball and enjoyed going to Wrigley Field to see his favorite team, the Chicago Cubs, play. His only belonging from his childhood was his neighborhood baseball team jersey. In high school he worked at a downtown photography studio. Even at that young age, Joe was good at saving the money he earned. Unfortunately, he was crushed when the banks closed as a result of the 1929 stock market crash. He was 15 years old.

Joe attended North Western University in Chicago for two years and studied architecture. In 1941, Joe was drafted into the U.S. Army on what was supposed to be a six month tour of duty which lasted four years. Joe came to Juneau in January 1942 with the Army Corps of Engineering to construct a camp at Duck Creek. He served as the photographer, documented the camp's construction and operated a darkroom following the Japanese invasion of the Aleutians. Later that year he was transferred to the photo lab at Fort Richardson outside of Anchorage Alaska. He was honorably discharged in November 1945.

During his 1942 stint in Juneau, Joe attended dances at the Elks Lodge that were regularly held for the service men. It was at one of these dances that he met the woman he married, Katherine Torkelsen (Hurley). Katherine was born in Juneau on March 30, 1921 and graduated from Juneau High School in 1939. Joe returned to Juneau after his Army discharge to be with Katherine. Together the pair had two children. David Michael was born in 1946 and Susan Katrine in 1958. Joe and Katherine divorced in 1960. Joe remained in Juneau, but Katherine and the children moved to Wasilla. Susan remembers returning to Juneau each August to spend time with her father. In 1967, Joe took David to Las Vegas for a 21st birthday present. It was their first time there, but it started a 30 year ritual of meeting in Las Vegas once a year. He was good at the craps table too. Big fan of Frank Sinatra who he saw often in Vegas.

Joe was a good businessman and was very friendly and kind to everyone, however he didn't suffer fools. He was kind, calm and known for his wicked and dry wit. He once took a mail order course on writing comedy and used those skills to write comedy skits. He had a way with kids and they loved him. He knew how to communicate with them in a magical way. He was able to tell stories, fairy tales and the like from memory. And he'd use different voices for effect.

Joe was active in the community. He was a member of the Lions Club, Elks Club, Democratic Party and the Sons of Norway. He volunteered during the Gold Medal Tournament, a local basketball tournament held every year in Juneau and sponsored by the Lions Club. Joe enjoyed bowling, sponsored a team for many years, and was a captain at the Elks Club Bowling Alley and later at Channel Bowl. In addition to bowling, Joe golfed, collected coins, and watched baseball on TV, cheering on his childhood team, the Cubs. He also liked reading about celebrities and would often refer to his friends and family celebrity names – Susan’s husband was dubbed “Bill Murray”.

Joe passed away on October 26, 2001 in Anchorage. His ashes were scattered in the Gastineau Channel.

Joseph “Joe” Alexander got his start in photography at as a teenager. While in high school he got a job in a photography studio in downtown Chicago. He worked there for about a decade until he was drafted into the Army in 1941. While in the Army he worked as a photographer. Along with documenting the construction of the Duck Creep camp in Juneau, Joe also photographed the U.S.O. organized performances that brought celebrities out to the troops for entertainment and to boost morale. The celebrities included Ingrid Bergman, Bob Hope and Francis Langford. He loved Ingrid Bergman and Ava Gardner. After being discharged from the Army, Joe returned to Juneau and opened a photography studio in the Shattuck Building located at 3rd and Seward Streets, the former location of Ordway’s Uptown Photo Shop. A few years later, Joe moved his business to the Simpson Building located at Seward and 2nd Streets. In the early 1950s, Joe purchased the Lu-Ek’s Photo Shop’s studio and store space in the 20th Century Theatre building on Front Street from Amy Lou Barney and Eckley Gurien. This space was his business’ third and final move. Alexander’s Photo Shop opened on Front Street in 1954.

In her story “Augusts in Juneau”, his daughter Susan wrote of her father’s shop:

“Three distinct areas divide the shop. The front section is designed for the customer and the transaction of business. It smells of Windex and Aqua Net hairspray. Against the walls are various multi-layered shelving units displaying his work...the red glow of the neon “Alexander Photo” sign reflecting backwards off the tile floor.

The middle area of the shop is set for sittings. The floor is dangerous, snaky pool of electrical cords and rolling, three-clawed lights. A narrow bookcase holds lenses, film packs, and props for children – a squeaky rubber Kewpie doll, a small red ball, a gray kitten puppet. My Father’s gentle way, his fairy tale voice, draws children to him; they smile readily in his presence.

Toward the back of this space, a heavy maroon drape hangs opposite a large mirror where customers always comb their hair, touch up, and prepare for the pose by which they want to be remembered, before my father and his camera do their time-altering, image-altering work.”

Joe was an excellent photographer and would attend seminars outside of Alaska to keep up on the latest developments. According to his daughter, Susan, “His work was his life – he always talked about how much he loved what he did. [He was] truly an artist.” He had a very good eye for composition and lighting; and he really knew beauty when he saw it. Joe was very good at retouching negatives, even for passport picture, so he often had orders for copies after he worked his “magic” on the images. Joe’s skill and popularity made him very popular throughout S.E. Alaska and people came to Juneau from communities all over for a portrait by him.

For a number of years, Alexander’s was the only photography business in Juneau. Photographer David Gelotte was a studio assistant at Alexander’s when he was in high school. In a 2001 Juneau Empire article about Joe, Gelotte said “I definitely learned a lot of things in his studio and respected his work. He did wonderful work in portraits. He certainly captured a whole era of time here from babies growing up to high school graduation to weddings.” Joe not only took graduation portraits but all of the portraits for the Juneau High School yearbooks. He also worked with the government, taking portraits of Alaskan politicians, governors, legislatures, the yearly legislature members, presidential candidates Kennedy and Nixon in 1958, and before them twice presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson 1954. Joe’s portrait of Governor Ernest Gruening made the cover of the June 16, 1947 issue of Time Magazine .

Joe retired in 1988, but his photographs remain to tell four decades of Juneau’s history.
